Home Health Care is the foundation of what we do.

In-Home Patient Care

Advances in diagnostic medicine as well as improvement in health care delivery are enabling people to live longer. As a result health care needs of the elderly, sick and disabled have drastically increased over the past decade. In an effort to meet the needs the mechanism for delivery must be addressed in ways specifically tailored to those needs.

America's Health Care offers a full spectrum of home care services ranging from nursing assistance with everyday needs to physical therapy. We understand that when you are not feeling well or recovering from injury, there is no place you'd rather be than at home surrounded by the people you love and simply being in comfortable, familiar surroundings has proven to be one step toward a speedy recovery.

America's Health Care offers a full range of in-home services and some of our services include:

Skilled Nursing Care
Home Health Aide
Private Duty
Companion Services
Supplemental Staffing

Care Management

America's Health Care meets the care needs of most home care patients and practices a philosophy of treat, train and discharge.

The America's Health Care system is an integrated system of treatment protocols, patient and family training materials to provide the immediate treatment needed while building the foundation for discharge to self-care through educating the patient and family. This supports a variety of care goals, including economic and personal well-being goals, as well as good recovery and outcomes.

America's Health Care has the systems to manage the volume of activity that accompanies intermittent visit care to include:

- Orienting caregivers in the clinical and service expectations of their roles.
- Scheduling to the mutual convenience of patients and caregivers.
- Oversight of visits to assure quality care and the best possible outcomes.
- Managing the information flow between caregivers, physicians, referrals sources and payors.

Patient satisfaction

We provide the best possible care using patient and family teaching materials that increase competence and confidence.

Best Possible Outcome

Not all patients get better, but we are committed to planning toward, managing and measuring our results against achieving the optimal outcome.

Right To Choose

Federal Hospital Law

guarantees a person's right to choose the home care provider that he or she wants in their home. This is an important health care right and we understand how difficult this decision can be. There are many options available, and we respect your right to choose the services that meet your unique home care needs. If you are being discharged from a hospital, the Discharge Planner should work with you and your family to understand your home care needs based on your condition and expected recovery. If home care is recommended, the hospital is required to give you a list of all the home care agencies that can serve you at home, in addition to any hospital sponsored or owned home care services. It is your choice to decide who comes in your home and cares for you.
